

Kela Walker

NEW YORK EMMY NOMINATED

Entertainment & Lifestyle Authority

Captivating. Personable. Talented. Ambitious – All monikers associated with television personality and New York Emmy Nominated rising star, Kela Walker. Delivering celebrity news, fashion trends, cultural and lifestyle content throughout New York City and beyond, Kela gives viewers an all access pass to the Big Apple, making her one of Gotham City's favorite entertainment and lifestyle reporters. A regular on NYC Life (channel 25) Kela is the creator, producer and host of several programs but most exclusively of That's So New York, exposing audiences to the energy and heartbeat that makes New York's great Cities. Interviewing such A-Listers as Alicia Keys, Sarah Jessica Parker, Renee Zellweger, Donald Trump, Bruce Willis and Denzel Washington, Kela is an award-winning talent. She can also be seen contributing entertainment and lifestyle content for such outlets as NBC's LXTV, Getty Images, YRB Magazine and RTL Germany where she shares her knowledge of the celebrity world with an international audience. A go to personality for celebrity juice and fashion trends and star studded action, Kela began her entertainment career as a red carpet correspondent showing up at movie premieres with Kela on the Karpet- a sizzling segment that kept audiences glued to the tube as she dished the latest celebrity news from the red carpets of New York City's most exclusive and entertaining events. Discussing celebrity buzz, fashion trends, red carpet commentary and much more, Kela Walker is always ready to take viewers on the scene and behind the velvet rope of the latest events.
